SAVANNAH, (Georgia) MARCH 27.

MONDAY laſt being the Anniverſary of laying the foundation of the Orphan-Houſe, the new and very decent Chapel lately erected there was opened. On this ſolemnity his Excellency the Governor, many of the Gentlemen of the Council, and a very great number of the principal Inhabitants of the province, were preſent. The company being ſeated in the Chapel, and the Orphan Children having ſung a ſhort hymn, the following addreſs was, with great propriety, and to the univerſal ſatisfaction of the audience, delivered by PETER EDWARDS, one of the Orphans:

May it pleaſe your Excellency,
Reverend Gentleman,
Gentlemen and Ladies,

IN obedience to the commands of my ſuperiors, and relying alſo on the candour and benevolence of your Excellency and this polite and reſpectable company, I beg leave, with all humility, to make this public addreſs.--It may not be improper to mention, that on this day, thirty-two years ago, the foundation of this houſe was laid by the Reverend Founder, whoſe death we Orphans in particular cannot ſufficiently lament; that alſo on this day, two years paſt, your Excellency honoured this place with your preſence, and condeſcended to lay the foundation of the two wings, ſuperadded to the Orphan-Houſe for the accommodation of young Gentlemen intended to be educated in Academical Learning, to enable them to move in a ſuperior ſphere of life; and we are now met to open and ſolemnly dedicate this new and convenient Chapel to the ſervice of our God and Saviour Jeſus Chriſt.----The many and great advantages accruing from the eſtabliſhment of public ſchools in every government is obvious, and, in a young province as this is, it muſt be of the higheſt importance to its future proſperity and welfare, which is the profeſſed deſign of this charitable inſtitution; an inſtitution evidently calculated to promote the happineſs of ſociety, by providing for and inſtructing ſuch poor children, as would otherwiſe, in all appearance, be brought up in ignorance, and become of little uſe and value to mankind.---They are here early taught their duty to God, their Country, and the reſpect they owe to thoſe in authority over them. God has various, and to us unthought of ways, which we poor ſhort-ſighted beings cannot fathom, to effect his purpoſes; but I hope I may be allowed to ſay, that in all human probability, great might have been the bleſſing to this noble undertaking, had it pleaſed divine providence to have prolonged the valuable life of the deceaſed Founder ---but, he is now no more.---We have, however, no doubt of the great Father of the fatherleſs ſupplying his loſs; and that your Excellency, and all well diſpoſed perſons, eſpecially the good people of this province, will eſpouſe our cauſe, and promote our welfare.------Agreeable to the plan of our deceaſed Benefactor, an Academy is now begun to be ſuperadded to the Orphan-Houſe, and Gentlemen of this province will have an opportunity of educating their ſons under their immediate inſpection, and will not be under the neceſſity of ſending them at a great diſtance for that purpoſe, and be conſtantly labouring under the painful anxiety of knowing of their health and welfare; beſides being probably at a greater and more uncertain expence.

The utility of this, it's humbly preſumed, wants no recommendation; it is natural to love the place where we received our education, and paſſed our firſt years.---If parents would therefore have the pleaſure of ſeeing the daily progreſs their children make in knowledge; if they deſire they ſhould love and revere them, and have a peculiar regard for the place of their nativity; if they would preſerve them from the improper liberties, they may take, when removed from their authority; it ſurely muſt be moſt eligible to let them ſpend their early years under the ſhadow of their wings, and within the reach of their parental admonitions.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

I have now in charge to return your Excellency, with all deference and humility, our moſt grateful acknowledgements for your kind patronage and countenance, and to aſſure your Excellency, that we do, and will conſtantly pray for your happineſs, wherever providence may pleaſe to place you, unfeignedly wiſhing, that your Excellency may continually experience that heart-felt ſatisfaction which can only dwell in the breaſt of the humane and benevolent, and we are perſuaded, when you return to your native country, our cauſe will not be forgot by your Excellency.

Honourable Sir,

We ſhould be highly wanting in gratitude, if, on this occaſion, we omitted to acknowledge your unwearied and unabating attention to ſerve this inſtitution from its firſt foundation, and we are happy that God has been pleaſed to preſerve your life to ſucceed our kind Founder, and carry into execution his truly generous intentions.------Your diſintereſted regard to promote our real welfare is well known, and therefore I ſhall forbear to add, only that, for your happineſs, and long continuance amongſt us, we daily pray.

Reverend Gentlemen,
Gentlemen and Ladies,

Permit me to return you our beſt thanks for the very kind regard you have ſhewn us, and to aſſure you, that we will endeavour to deſerve the continuance of your friendſhip and favour.

Sir, and Gentlemen,

We cannot, we muſt not, Sir, omit to give our public teſtimony of your unwearied diligence and attention to cultivate and improve our minds in ſolid learning and uſeful knowledge, and, Gentlemen, it would be unjuſt, if we did not make the ſame acknowledgement for your conſtant care to make our ſituation in regard to our bodies eaſy, comfortable, and every way convenient, and as we have nothing to repay you, but our prayers for your welfare, both in time and eternity, and our beſt thanks, we hope you will kindly accept this tribute of our grateful hearts.

Young Gentlemen,

You are happy in having parents, who have both inclination and means to pay for your education.----I have none.----But to you, Gentlemen, I muſt own my obligation for having the opportunity of an education I could not, from my ſituation, have expected, had not your parents enabled our worthy Executor to employ ſo able a Tutor, as we now have, to inſtruct us, and I hope we ſhall ſhew, that his aſſiduity, care, and pains, will have the deſired effect.

My Fellow Orphans,

What ſhall I ſay to excite your gratitude?----I hope the memory of our late Benefactor, who has laboured inceſſantly for me, for you, and many others, who have partook of the benefit of this inſtitution, ſince its firſt foundation, will be deeply engraven in our hearts, and remembered with the greateſt reverence and gratitude.---This is all we have in our power, in return for ſuch unmerited favours, and if this our ſmall tribute, ſhould be wanting, we muſt, we ſhall juſtly be deemed the moſt ungrateful to our deceaſed Benefactor, who encountered innumerable, uncommon, and unknown difficulties, in carrying on this inſtitution, notwithſtanding he was maligned, traduced, and perſecuted, with unrelenting virulence, as a cheat, an impoſtor, a public robber, who, under the ſpecious pretence of promoting a charitable deſign, was amaſſing great wealth to himſelf, all which he bore with an uncommon degree of patience.---Let me add, that God has been graciouſly pleaſed to provide for you, for me, beyond many, very many in our circumſtances.----We are here daily taught the great and fundamental truths of the goſpel of the Son of God, have plenty of the neceſſaries of life, and are carefully educated to qualify us to get a comfortable ſubſiſtence, and make us uſeful members of ſociety---Let us therefore make a proper improvement of theſe mercies, and let us, my dear fellow Orphans, be thankful to God, the Father of all, for them, not only with our lips, but in our lives, by giving up ourſelves to his ſervice, and by walking before him in holineſs and righteouſneſs all our days, through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,
Reverend Gentlemen,
Gentlemen and Ladies,

I fear I have treſpaſſed on your patience, and humbly entreat you to pardon the poor attempt of a youth unaccuſtomed to ſpeak before ſo reſpectable an audience.

After this the Rev. Mr. Edward Ellington, Miniſter of the pariſh of St. Bartholomew in South-Carolina, read prayers, and preached a ſermon very ſuitable to the occaſion from Matt. xviii. 20. Divine ſervice being ended, the young Gentlemen of the Academy repeated ſeveral paſſages taken from ſome of the moſt approved Engliſh authors, in ſuch a manner, as appeared agreably to engage the attention, and to meet with the entire approbation of the company. Then Mr. Edward Langworthy, their Tutor, addreſſed the company as follows:

May it pleaſe your Excellency,
Gentlemen and Ladies,

HAVING obſerved the attention of your Excellency to the exerciſes of this morning, and the marks of pleaſure and approbation ſo viſible in all the Gentlemen and Ladies now preſent, I think it my duty, with the warmeſt gratitude, to acknowledge the honour your Excellency and this reſpectable audience have conferred on this inſtitution.---The young Gentlemen that juſt now ſpoke before your Excellency have not been long under my tuition; they are indeed young----and ſcarce initiated in the firſt principles of Literature; however, I flatter myſelf that theſe feeble attempts will be favourably received, and that hereafter they will be enabled to exhibit ſomething more worthy of your attention and approbation.

It affords me the higheſt ſatisfaction, when I reflect, that divine providence hath honoured me with the care and direction of them, and I cannot but make a tender of my ſincere and beſt reſpects to you, our worthy Executor, and to their worthy parents and friends, for the great confidence repoſed in me.---Duly ſenſible of the important truſt committed to every Preceptor, I ſhall, in the fear of God, do my utmoſt to form their tender minds, and to impreſs on them ſuch principles as may tend to advance their happineſs in private, as well as in public life: And I hope, from their proficiency, the Gentlemen of this province will be induced to promote with all their influence the growth and proſperity of our preſent undertaking.

The ſtrict and virtuous education of youth is a point of great conſequence in every country, and thoſe that are employed therein do certainly merit the attention and encouragement of the public in proportion to their faithfulneſs; for my part, I do moſt chearfully dedicate my whole time to this laborious work, and am determined to purſue it with the greateſt aſſiduity and diligence, being convinced that I can in no other way do more good to the true intereſt of my fellow beings, or do more ſervice to the province.

It is undoubtedly the indiſpenſible obligation of every one entruſted with the buſineſs of education to ſatisfy the public with reſpect to their abilities and intentions, and therefore I hope to convince you that no pains will be ſpared, no time loſt, that whatever is uſeful in the Sciences, or ornamental in life, will here be inculcated both by precept and example.---Authors in the ſeveral branches of knowledge will be regularly read, and the ſacred ſcriptures conſtantly explained:---Theſe can beſtow underſtanding upon all men; they are the univerſal logic, ſince none can read them without either acquiring a greater exactneſs of thought, or being invited to contract a greater rectitude of manners.

Our time being ſo far elapſed, permit me, in the behalf of theſe poor Orphans, and in the name of every member concerned in this Seminary, moſt heartily to thank your Excellency, and all the Gentlemen and Ladies now before me, for their kind attendance on this ſolemnity. With ſentiments of the moſt unfeigned gratitude we would expreſs our ſenſe of it, and hope for the continuance of their eſteem and friendſhip.

And I ſhould be greatly wanting in reſpect and duty to you, Reverend Sir, and indeed juſtly incur the diſpleaſure of all concerned in the management of this inſtitution, if I did not now embrace the opportunity of returning you their and my humbleſt thanks for your kind and friendly aſſiſtance.

May what you and others have done on this Anniverſary terminate in the glory of the great Head of the Church, who is God over all bleſſed for evermore.

Between the exerciſes of the day, the Orphan children ſung ſeveral ſhort hymns adapted to the occaſion, with one of which the ſolemnity was cloſed. The company were afterwards entertained with a plain and plentiful dinner in the Great Hall, and unanimouſly expreſſed their ſatisfaction of the proceedings of the day, and eſpecially of the decency and order with which the whole was conducted.

It is ſaid by ſome perſons, who had the curioſity of counting the company who were laſt Monday at the Orphan-Houſe Academy, that there were 67 Ladies, upwards of 80 Gentlemen, upwards of 50 carriages, beſides a number of ſingle horſes.

Mr. John Bellinger's Brutus, Mr. Richard Pendarvis's Traveller, Mr. Morecock's Liberty, and Mr. John Green's Daffodil, and won at the 2d and 3d heats by Brutus.

NEW-YORK, MARCH 21.

Extract of a Letter dated London, November 2d, 1776, which was omitted inſerting before in hopes the Gentleman's Aſſertions might not altogether prove juſt.

"A Hint has been dropped, that at a late Privy Council, Sir Bull-Face Double Fee, ſtrongly urged the repealing of ſome, and diſallowing of others, of your Acts of Legiſlation. He was ſeconded by Lord H------h and a few others, who inſiſted upon it, that you were upon all Occaſions endeavouring to encroach upon and leſſen the Prerogative. Nothing was finally concluded upon then, but depend upon it, ſo powerful is the Man, ſuch is the undue Influence, and ſo inimical to the Conſtitution and to America in general, that he will not reſt till his views are accompliſhed; beſides two of the Acts nearly affect the Gentlemen of the Black Robe, with whom----why may he not now, as well as on former Occaſions, be ſuſpected to be on the beſt of Terms?-----It was urged that the repealing and diſallowing of Acts already paſſed ſeveral Years, without any Diſapprobation being ſignified in the Interim, would have the moſt ſingular Appearance, as well as the utmoſt Diſquiet and Diſtruſt."

A number of Gentlemen celebrated the Repeal of the deteſtable STAMP-ACT, at Hampden-Hall, on the 18th Inſtant, when they drank the following Toaſts, viz. 1. The KING. 2. The Queen, Prince of Wales, and Royal Family.---3. May the American Colonies fully enjoy the Britiſh Conſtitution.---4. The Governor and Province.----5. The ſpirited Houſe of Burgeſſes of Virginia in 1765, and 1769.---6. The 92 patriotic Non-reſcinders of the Maſſachuſetts Aſſembly.---7. The American Aſſemblies that have nobly refuſed to comply with the Mutiny-Act.---8. The virtuous Minority of the Aſſembly of this Colony.---9. May Liberty be the Bond of Union betwixt Great-Britain and her Colonies.---10. May the Deſigns of the Enemies of the Britiſh Empire ever be defeated.---11. Unanimity to the Colonies in the Cauſe of Liberty to the lateſt Poſterity.---12. The immortal Memory of William the Third, and the Glorious Revolution.---13. The ſpirited Corporation of the City of London.---14. The Liberty of the Preſs.---15. No Anſwer to Interrogatories, when tending to Accuſe the Perſon interrogated.---16. May Elections be by Ballot; and no Repreſentative of the People excluded, but by the known Law of the Land.---17. No exerciſe of the Legiſlative Power, but by the three Branches of the Legiſlature.---18. The proteſting Lords and diſſenting Commons.---19. The Supporters of the Bill of Rights.---20. The injured, yet ſpirited, Freeholders of the County of Middleſex.---21. More public Virtue and Integrity, and leſs Venality and Corruption.---22. The ſpirited Conduct of the Supreme Court of this Colony, who oppoſed an Appeal from the Verdict of a Jury.---23. The Navy and Army.---24. Lord Chatham.---25. Lord Camden.----26. General Howard.----27. Sir George Saville.---28. Colonel Barré.---29. Sir William Meredith.---30. Serjeant Glynn.---31. Alderman Wilkes.---32. Mr. Burke.---33. Dr. Lucas, the Patriot of Ireland.---34. The Pennſylvania Farmer.---35. Mr. Juſtice Livingſton, and his injured, yet ſpirited, Conſtituents.----36. Alexander McDougall.---37. The Memory of John Hampden, Eſq.---38. The Memory of Algernon Sidney, Eſq.-----39. The Memory of the late Mr. Beckford.---40. The DAY.

LONDON, JANUARY 19.

YESTERDAY being obſerved as the anniverſary of her Majeſty's birth-day, their Majeſties received the compliments of the nobility and gentry at St. James's on the occaſion. At noon the guns were fired in the park and at the tower. Her Majeſty appeared in a prodigious rich ſuit; the ladies made a moſt brilliant appearance, and were moſtly dreſſed in our own manufactures. The great officers to her Majeſty gave grand entertainments, &c. on the occaſion, as did the French ambaſſador; and in the evening there was a ball at St. James's.

Yeſterday, previous to the drawing-room at St. James's, her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs Dowager of Wale, paid her compliments to their Majeſties, on the above occaſion.

It is ſaid his Grace the late Duke of Bedford has left a conſiderable legacy to Dr. Francis Andrews, provoſt of Trinity college, in Dublin, and a large ſum of money to be applied to the repairing and ornamenting that univerſity.

To-morrow the remains of his Grace the Duke of Bedford are to be interred at Cheney, in Bucks, the burial place of the family.

Three days before the diſſolution of the Duke of Bedford, he declared his deſire to excuſe his tenants (who had unhappily ſuffered by the late inundations) what they were in arrears; and alſo to allow them one year's rent. And we are told, that the Duke of Marlborough, Earl Gower, Lord Albemarle and Admiral Keppel, uncles to the preſent Duke of Bedford, are left guardians to him, and his brothers.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, dated January 8.

"The baniſhment of the Duke de Choiſeul is ſtill all the converſation of Paris. His diſgrace was not in the leaſt expected: yet it ſhould ſeem that he himſelf was not at all ſurprized at the event. He no ſooner ſaw the meſſenger from the King, than he ſuſpected his errand; for he aſked him, with great coolneſs, "Is the place of my exile at any conſiderable diſtance?----The order was given him---he was therein told, that reſpect to Madame the Dutcheſs, had prevailed on the King to baniſh him only to his own eſtate----but that he muſt take but two hours for his departure. The Duke exclaimed, that it was impoſſible for him to be ready in ſo ſhort a period!----he ſent to the King to aſk for four and twenty----it was refuſed----the Duke reiterated his requeſt----the Monarch was inexorable. The Dutcheſs received the news not only with fortitude, but bounding almoſt on joy: "Now (ſaid ſhe) I ſhall at leaſt have the happineſs of peaceably enjoying the company of the Duke, which I have ever found impoſſible in the tumult of a court." It is the talk that he was very prodigal, and that if one of his moſt intimate friends had not ſent him a conſiderable ſum of money, at a moment's warning, the noble exile muſt have departed from Paris with ſcarce a dozen louiſdores!----They ſay the houſe he has retired to is one of the moſt magnificent in the whole kingdom, and far more ſumptuous (for its ſize) than any palace of his maſter.----His enemies, not content with his diſcarce, formed the deſign of making him periſh in a moſt ſingular manner. They aſſembled a large quantity of hay and ſtraw, and other combuſtible matter; and placed it on each ſide of a narrow road through which he was to paſs. There were people ready to cut the harneſs of the carriage, ſo as to let the body of the chaiſe fall, whilſt others were to ſet fire to the hay and ſtraw. An anonimous information of this diabolical ſcheme, however, reached the intended victim time enough for him to elude the danger, and the enemies of the unfortunate Duke were diſappointed by his taking a different road.----He has the reputation of being much eſteemed in moſt foreign courts, particularly that of Vienna; and the Dauphineſs is ſo exceedingly chagrined at the Duke's diſgrace, that it is viſible to the whole court: Indeed, ſhe ſcarce attempts to hide her concern even in the royal preſence."

The ſhips Prince, Egmont, and Vanſittart, were left well at Johanna, by the Worceſter, Capt. Hall, who arrived at Bombay on the 14th of July.

It is ſaid, the Eaſt-India Company have received ſome very agreeable accounts of the ſtate of their affairs in Bengal; their influence in the Carnatic, it is ſaid, is become more powerful than ever; and two of the Soupahs, who were ſaid to be attached to the enemies of the Engliſh, have given the ſtrongeſt proofs of their attachment to us, and allowed the Company's ſervants conſiderable advantages in commerce over their neighbours.

In conſequence of the above intelligence, India ſtock has riſen conſiderably for theſe two days paſt.

JANUARY 21. Yeſterday a Privy Council was held at the Cockpit.

The ſame day the Rev. Dr. Roſs, prebendary of Durham, preached before his Majeſty at the chapel royal; Lord Cadogan carried the ſword of ſtate; her Majeſty had divine ſervice performed in her own apartments at the Queen's palace.

It was with pleaſure remarked on Friday, that the leaders in all the contending parties were at court to pay their compliments to her Majeſty.

Their Majeſties came into the ball-room laſt Friday night ſoon after nine o'clock, and while they were going round the circle, paying the uſual compliments, the band of muſic continually playing the overture in the occaſional oratorio, compoſed by the late celebrated Mr. Handel. The ball was opened at half an hour paſt nine, by his Royal Highneſs the Duke of Glouceſter and the Dutcheſs of Buccleugh; the minuets laſted till half an hour paſt eleven, two country dances only were called; in the ſecond their Majeſties retired, and when that was over, the ball ended, which was at twelve o'clock. The room was very much crowded, and the nobility and gentry made a very brilliant appearance. Upwards of forty minuets were danced.

The moſt diſtinguiſhed figure in the ball-room was ſaid to be Lady Catherine Lee: Her dreſs was a light purple ſattin and ſilver flowers, with ſilver trimming, and a ſprig of diamonds in her hair.

The French Ambaſſador made the moſt ſplendid appearance of any of the foreign miniſters that were at court. His horſes were covered with a fine beautiful Leopard's ſkin; their harneſs all richly mounted with ſilver; his liveries were alſo very ſuperb, and his huſſar running footman wore a cap about eighteen inches high, with rich taſſels and ſpangles to it that coſt forty pounds.

Friday diſpatches were received at his Excellency the Ruſſian Ambaſſador's from the court of Peterſburgh.

Saturday morning a courier ſet out from the French Ambaſſador's houſe in Great George-ſtreet, Weſtminſter, charged with diſpatches for the court of Verſailles.

The ſame morning an expreſs was received at the admiralty-office, from Commodore Proby, commander of his Majeſty's ſquadron in the Mediterranean.

The following particulars of the late Duke of Bedford's will are authentic: To the preſent Duke he has left 600l. per ann. till he arrives at the age of 18; and has appointed the Dutcheſs of Bedford, the Dutcheſs of Marlborough, and Mr. Palmer, guardians to the young Duke. He has left to the Dutcheſs of Bedford 8000l. per ann. during her life, beſides all his jewels and plate, furniture, pictures, &c. &c. at Woburn and in Bloomſbury-ſquare houſes, entirely at her Grace's own diſpoſal. To the two brothers of the preſent Duke, he has bequeathed 300l. per ann. each till of age, at which time they are to receive 50,000l. each. To Mr. Rigby 5000l. To the Hon. Captain Fitzpatrick, brother to Lord Oſſory, and nephew to the Dutcheſs of Bedford, 1000l. To Lady Oſſory, late Dutcheſs of Grafton, 2000l.

There are now upwards of 2200 men employed in the King's yard at Chatham, in fitting out the ſhips now in dock there, and finiſhing thoſe on the ſtocks.

JANUARY 22. Yeſterday in the afternoon, the Right Hon. Lord North, had the honour of a long conference with his Majeſty, at the Queen's Palace, on important affairs.

The ſame day a council was held at the Cockpit, ſaid to be on the ſubject of ſome important matters to be taken under the conſideration of an auguſt aſſembly in a few days.

Sunday after the court, drawing-room, and council, were over at St. James's, the Lords North and Sandwich, and the Right Hon. Mr. Rigby, had a long conference with his Majeſty at St. James's.

The following Scotch Peers did not vote on either ſide at the the late election for one of the Sixteen Peers of Scotland: The Dukes of Queenſbury, Montroſe, and Roxburgh; the Marquis of Lothian; the Earls of Morton, Strathmore, Galloway, Traquair, Finlater, Dyſart, Balcarras, Aberdeen; Viſcounts Falkland, Irwin, Dumblain [Duke of Leed]; Lords Gray, Somerville, Semple, Oliphant, Torphichen, Cranſton, Rae, Kircudbright, Halkertoun, Ruthven, Rutherford, and Kinnard. In all 27.

And beſides theſe, the Duke of Hamilton and Lord Bellenden are minors; the Marquis of Annandale, inſane; the Earl of Newburgh and Lord Aſton are Roman Catholicks; the Earls of Stirling, Dunmore, and Bute; Viſcount Stormont; Lords Cathcart, Blantyre, Fairfax, and Belhaven, are abroad; and the Earldoms of Sutherland, Caithneſs and Orkney, and the Baronies of Mordington and Forreſter, are either held by females, or in abeyance. In all 18.

So that, of 94, the preſent number of the Peers of Scotland, 18 were, by various cauſes, (as above) diſabled from voting, 30, for reaſons unknown, did not vote, and only 46 voted at the late election.

Q. If the King, ſince the Union, can create no more Scotch Peers, how were the Dukes of Glouceſter and Cumberland created Dukes of Edinburgh and Strathern? The late Prince of Wales and Duke of York were alſo Scotch Dukes, created ſince the Union.

Letters were lately received from Florence, dated January 1, giving an account that the Right Hon. the Earl of Bute was better than he had been for two months paſt; but ſay nothing of his Lordſhip's return to England.

By letters from Gibraltar there is advice, that a veſſel which put in there from Tangier, in Africa, brought an account, that on the 12th of December laſt, there was a ſevere ſhock of an earthquake felt there, which laſted two minutes and a half; that great part of the houſes were thrown down, and the inhabitants buried in the ruins. The letters further ſay, that it was felt ſeveral leagues at ſea, and that it was perceived at Gibraltar, and at the time it happened the ſea roſe conſiderably.

Private letters from Paris mention, that the Duke de Villiere's power over the King increaſes daily; he has introduced one of his creatures at court, Count de Beauteville, who is become a great favourite, and conducts himſelf with ſo much arrogance that the people are ſaid to be univerſally diſcontented.

The laſt letters from Breſt mention, that fifty-nine ſea lieutenants, who had been diſcharged from the King's ſervice ſince the concluſion of the laſt peace, had all been juſt reinſtated in the ſame ſtation as before they were diſcharged; by which it appears how diligent the French are in fitting out a numerous fleet.

The laſt letters from Rochfort mention, that a 74 gun ſhip, and two new frigates of 32 guns each, were launched from the ſtocks the 24th ult. and that ſeveral more capital ſhips were in great forwardneſs for launching.

At the Court at the Queen's-Houſe, the 22d day of January, 1771.

PRESENT,

The KING's moſt Excellent MAJESTY in Council.

His Majeſty having been pleaſed to deliver the cuſtody of the Privy Seal to the Right Hon. Mr. D----ll roſe, and deſired that the purport of the declaration might be immediately made known, that the Members might on Friday next come prepared to ſpeak to the matter then before them. Lord N----- replied, it was utterly impoſſible for him, at that moment, to explain the particulars; the Houſe, therefore, muſt have patience till the day he had mentioned. Mr. B----ke ſtrenuouſly urged, that the Houſe would fix on Tueſday next for the laſt day of debating on this matter, and not confine it merely to Friday, as it was a ſubject that ought to be candidly, maturely, and deliberately weighed. After which it was agreed that there ſhould be a call of the Houſe on Tueſday the 5th of February next, when that important matter is to be taken into conſideration.

Yeſterday there were full Houſes of both Lords and Commons, who broke up by four o'clock.

The Earl of Sandwich, as Firſt Lord of the Admiralty, has declared that no new Lieutenants ſhall be made in the Royal Navy, till all the Half-pay Lieutenants are firſt provided for.

We are informed, from the beſt authority, that advices have been received from Madrid, inſtructing the Spaniſh Miniſter to give ſatisfaction to our court, in the moſt ample manner, for Governor Buccarrelli, ſeizing on Falkland's-iſlands; and that a convention between the two courts has been abſolutely ſigned, and every ſtep taken to procure a ſolid and laſting peace.

I am, my Lord,
Your Lordſhip's moſt obedient,

Extract from an authentic letter from Paris, dated January 9.

"You may rely on the following intereſting piece of intelligence, namely, that the French have actually planted cloves and nutmegs in the Iſle of France, notwithſtanding all the vigilance of the Dutch to prevent them; the latter therefore can no longer be called excluſively the pepper boxes of all Europe. The ſea officer who was employed in it, and who brought the news into France, has been knighted for his ſervices, and received both a penſion and gratuity from the court. He comes ſometimes to a coffee-houſe which I frequent, and has ſhewn me ſpecimens of the ſpiceries.

"The Parliament of Paris began yeſterday to exerciſe its functions, but only under certain conditions; and it is not known whether the King or the Parliament will prevail. The following is an authentic copy of the declaration signed by the Spanish Ambassador, last Monday at two o'clock:

DECLARATION.

First. Whereas the dispossessing the English from Falkland's-Islands is likely to infringe the peace, which the King of England and the King of Spain are equally solicitous to preserve; from this reciprocity of sentiment, the King of Spain consents to disavow the act of the Governor; and that the island shall be restored, and with it all the English property, according to an inventory.

Second. That this cession is not to prejudice any right which the Spaniards might formerly have had, and which is to be referred to subsequent discussion.

It is asserted that, by the treaty with Spain, our court has acquitted itself as a faithful ally to that of St. Petersburgh; the court of Madrid being engaged to give no interruption to the arms of Russia against the Turks.

It is reported, that one article in the accommodation with the court of Madrid is, that Spain shall immediately disarm in all her ports.

It is said, that during the late negociations with the court of Spain, the honour of the English nation has been observed and maintained with the greatest strictness by Lord North; and that nothing but the utmost satisfaction given on the part of Spain, has brought matters to the present period.

CONSTANTINOPLE, December 3. The Pacha of Bosnia, esteemed by the Sultan as a man of courage and great skill in the military art, is appointed Grand Vizir, in the room of Hali Pacha, who is sent to Belgrade in quality of Pacha; and the Pacha of Belgrade succeeds the new Grand Vizir as Pacha of Bosnia.

According to the last letters from our army, the garrison of the town of Ibrailow, which the Russians are besieging, make a vigorous resistance. The assailants in their different attacks have always been repulsed with the loss of many thousand men killed or made prisoners.

A fire broke out lately in this city, at several places at once; and quantities of combustible matter were found at Pera, to which the fire had not communicated itself. The sailors again began their disorders; many Franks and Greeks have already fallen innocent victims to their brutality.

LEGHORN, December 26. The Turks of the isle of Lemnos have violated the capitulation which they made with the Russians, in inhumanly massacreing a number of Greeks of that island, among st whom, we are told, that they have not even spared their Bishop.

BRINDEN, December 20. We have just received letters which positively assure that the Russians have retaken the island of Lemnos, and cut to pieces all the Turks which Hassen Bey had conducted thither. The castle has also surrendered, and some of the letters even mention the terms of capitulation.
